

Analytical Chemistry for a Better Life

3rd International Conference on Analytical Chemistry

Welcome to the 3rd International Conference on Analytical Chemistry (ROICAC'2016) to be held in Iasi, August 28 – 31, 2016.

This conference is a meeting place for analytical chemists working in academia, research institutes, industry, clinical laboratories etc. The scientific program will give a broad overview of Analytical Chemistry topics that contribute to a better life. A special session will be organized for young chemists. Leading companies are invited to exhibit and present new developments in their analytical instrumentation.

Do not miss the opportunity to exchange experience with analytical chemists from Romania and abroad and to show the large contribution that Analytical Chemistry has for a Better Life!

We look forward to welcoming you in Iasi,

Raluca-Ioana STEFAN-VAN STADEN

Bogdan C. SIMIONESCU

Chairpersons of ROICAC'2016

Topics

Electroanalytical Chemistry • Bioanalytical Chemistry • Biomedical Analysis • Enantioanalysis • Spectroscopy in Analytics • Chromatography • Environmental Analysis – Marine Geology and Geoecology • Food Analysis • Pharmaceutical Analysis • Clinical Analysis • Hyphenated techniques in Analytics • Process Systems and Techniques in Analytics • Chemometrics • Nanoanalytics • Surface Analysis for Biomedicine • Advanced Materials Analysis • Metrology, Reference Materials and Method Validation • Education on Analytical Chemistry

Invitation

Special invitation for young chemists to a network organized by the Romanian International Chapter of the American Chemical Society

Special oral and posters sessions dedicated to the Network of Young Chemists for a Better Life will be organized. The best young chemists will be awarded with prizes from the American Chemical Society.
